

Clay Worley

Senior Vice President and Chief Human Resources Officer

Clay Worley serves as senior vice president and chief human resources officer for NCI, responsible for the company's human resources and security strategy and execution.

Clay brings more than 30 years of experience leading human resources teams and driving human capital initiatives across HR functional areas in support of business objectives, most recently as vice president of Human Resources for DXC Technology's U.S. public sector organization. Prior to this, he worked in various HR leadership roles at Leidos and L-3 Communications. He currently serves on the board of the Washington Women's Leadership Initiative as well as the HR Alliance DC organization, and is a member of the board of directors for BioPharma Global. He is involved with community and charitable organizations such as Habitat for Humanity, the Paralyzed Veterans of America's National Veterans Wheelchair Games, the American Heart Association, and the Northern Virginia Technology Council's Tech Talent and Veterans Employment initiatives. Clay holds a bachelor's in business administration from the University of Louisville and a master's in business administration from the Robert H. Smith School of Business at the University of Maryland.

About NCI

NCI is a leading provider of enterprise solutions and services to U.S. defense, intelligence, health and civilian government agencies. The company has the expertise and proven track record to solve its customers' most important and complex mission challenges through technology and innovation.

With core competencies in delivering cost-effective solutions and services in areas such as:

- Agile digital transformation
- Advanced analytics
- Artificial intelligence
- Cybersecurity and information assurance
- Engineering and logistics
- Fraud, waste and abuse detection
- Hyperconverged infrastructure

Coupled with a focus on strategic partnerships, NCI is committed to bringing commercial innovation to missions of national importance.